Murder Mystery

☰ August 23rd, 2007 | → | ☐ Blog |

Rosie and I went to a Murder Mystery Dinner with Lynn and Larry last week. It was good for a bunch of laughs. I'd say the Killing Kompany put on a good show.

Rosie went upstate to her dads house for a few days with her sisters, so it's been kind of quiet at home. In some respects it gives me a chance to catch up on a bunch of paperwork and coding though. Greenstar Systems generates more paperwork then you would think. liability insurance, workers compensation, unemployment insurance, taxes (state/federal/city), social security, etc. I got ADP to do my payroll which has made some of that much easier, but it's not like getting a paycheck and just popping it into my account .. I get a paycheck, put it into the GreenStar Systems account, wait for it to clear .. then
